

Pioneer of ultra resistant glass since 1945!

COLLECTIONS 2021

Origins

For many Europeans, Durablex is a magical name that reminds them of their childhood school days when they played parlor games at lunchtime using the little numbers found at the bottom of their glass tumblers. But Durablex is more than a fond memory or icon, Durablex is a building block to technology. Durablex owes its birth to the Saint-Gobain group and its industrial patent for molded, tempered glass, which was developed in 1945 in La Chapelle Saint-Mesmin factory. This industrial process gives the tumbler precision transparency, lasting clarity, and unparalleled strength. Since its creation, the brand has achieved international notoriety with its nearly unbreakable tumblers and simple, enduring style.

Tempering Process

The tempering operation consists of heating the glass to a temperature of 1292°F and then brutally cooling the glass. This treatment creates in the glass a force or reaction, which improves most of its physical properties including resistance to mechanical stress (bending, shocks and impacts) and to thermal shocks.

Resulting Mechanical Properties: the product is 2.5 times more resistant than a fired product of equal thickness.

Resulting Thermal Properties: tempered glass can resist a thermal shock of 266°F, while classical glass breaks from a thermal shock of about 104°F. Tempered glass conserves the optical and acoustic properties of each basic product. After being tempered, the glass can no longer be reshaped. Slight deformations may be observed after tempering which are inherent in the manufacturing process.

Environmentally Friendly

The glass does not go to waste. Durablex is ruthless with respect to the quality of its products, yet also knows that it is important to give raw material a second chance. Products withdrawn for quality reasons are recycled on site and reintegrated into the production cycle. A Durablex product can therefore contain up to 35% of glass that was recycled. However, Durablex's high quality standards exclude the use of collected glass. Our glass is 100% Durablex, from the beginning to the end. Durablex's commitment to the environment does not stop at the product. Cardboard used in the packaging is environment-friendly and production waste is collected for recycling.

Social Media

Durablex hosts an informative Facebook page and a regularly updated YouTube channel. Follow Durablex on Twitter and post your photos of our products in use on Pinterest.

everyday use

EVERY DAY, ALL DAY!

Duralex is there for you every time you dine: be it breakfast, coffee break, lunch, snack-time, cocktail/appetizer hour, dinner or dessert. Designed for everyday food and drinks as well as special occasions and parties, Duralex products are manufactured so they can be used all the time. Glass tops the list as a hygienically safe material for contact with food and drink. Duralex everyday glass adapts to all situations. Most of the time, a clumsy gesture won't break a glass. And even if it does break, there are no sharp pieces! Timeless, durable and reliable, this glassware stands the test of time.

lifestyles

INVITATION TO BRING OUT YOUR INNER CREATIVITY...

The Picardie tumbler with its iconic design and colors is the canvas for some of most decadent and fanciful drinks, appetizers and desserts we have ever seen. The tumbler has graced many epicurean and lifestyle magazine covers since it is such a source of inspiration. Other Duralex drinking glasses, mugs, cups, plates and the bowls dress tables worldwide and are spotted in some of most classic and imitated tableware settings in both restaurants and in the movies.

tough

THE TEMPERING PROCESS IS OUR TRADEMARK. Since 1945, Duralex has pioneered tempered glass technology, a process we specialize in. This specific treatment of glass, which consists in sudden cooling of the material previously heated to a temperature of about 1292°F, improves most of its physical qualities. Able to withstand a thermal shock of 266°F, 2.5 times stronger than an annealed glass product, it is the same tempered glass used to toughen windshields!

made in France

KNOW-HOW AND EXPERTISE. From raw material to packaging, everything is 100% produced and made in France where Duralex is a responsible economic player. The skills of our staff have established the brand's international reputation with practically unbreakable products in an understated and timeless style. Our quality is appreciated all over the world: 85% of our production is exported.

Testimonials

Duralex is a brand that spans generations and touches the lives of everyone. That is why we decided to meet some of the people who use these products every day and ask them to express their vision of Duralex. We've imagined the 2017 catalog as a family album, told through a series of portraits. These ambassadors have opened the doors to their lives and environments and bear witness to the quality of Duralex products. These photographic reports represent the various Duralex lines, from classics to the most exclusive products, each set in genuine, everyday scenes. The products are displayed in use because Duralex is, above all else, a brand for its users. A symbol of resistance, of made in France quality, of timeless style, the specialist of tempered glass is a responsible brand, profoundly anchored in its time. Duralex glass products are in line with each way of life, need or desire, and this is why each of us has such a strong connection to them.

"My favorite part about the set is that they are not plastic, so I do not worry about chemicals leaching into the food. With these you can still set a nice looking table too. There are no goofy cartoons that take away from a normal looking meal/table setting."

"The Picardie Glasses fare well with us. They do not "scratch" when stacked one on top of the other, they do not get cloudy after many, many washes in the restaurant quality dish machine, they do not break easily, and over all they are one of the better, stronger glasses we utilize here."

Peter G. Dowd Jr.

"These are awesome for mealtime. Easy to clean. Can be thrown on the floor (hard). Kids feel like adults. Good plates for adult snacks too! Bought 3 sets and I want more."

"These dishes are great. I would recommend them to anyone with small children. I dropped the plate from shoulder height just to see, and it did not break as promised!"
